Italians, Dutch Show Annoyance at France

REPORTER'S REFLECTIONS — If the ordinary citizen is mystified, he has a right to be.

When can anyone recall politicians talking against a cut in taxes?

Yet, this is happening with the President's tax cut proposal.

To make any sense of the much talk coming from Washington, we must first realize that 1964 is an election year.

If there are weak spots in our economy, and most observers feel there are, these may precipitate a recession later this year which would extend into '64.

While responsible leaders of both political parties may be expected to do what is necessary to ward off any recession, it is also true that a down-trend in the economic pace would adversely affect the Democrats more than the Republicans. The party in power takes the blame at the polls for any recession.

Now this may explain why President Kennedy places his tax legislation so high on the list. He maintains the tax cut will tend to ward off a recession and while he admits the deficit of the federal government may be increased by the tax cut, he argues it would increase more should we have a recession.

A recession brings a demand for the government to institute programs which require cash outlays to get the economy moving again.

In a nutshell, he contends, a tax cut will be cheaper in the long run. Opponents of his view declare government spending must be trimmed so that a reduction of government revenues from a tax cut will not increase the fiscal deficit.

Doing the one without the other, they claim, would raise the unwelcome specter of inflation.

It is a good guess that some compromise will be made and some tax revision program will be enacted. The public awareness of taxes paid is too acute for politicians to dare oppose some kind of relief for taxpayers.

There are parts of the President's plan which seem to us to defy explanation. His own economic council has proposed a tax cut totalling some $10 billion. However when Kennedy disclosed his proposal it called for a reduction of tax rates to total something more than $13 billion but asked that almost $3 billion of the loss be recouped by taking away some deductions now allowed on local taxes, interest and charitable contributions.

The net result is the same, from the government's point of view. Why the gimmick? We know no explanation.

In the see-saw which will go on in Congress, the President will push, he will lose some points, he will get some tax relief program through.

We predict what we have called a gimmick will get lost in the shuffle.

We also suspect, when all faces have been saved, meaning that the President gets some tax cuts, and those who oppose him, both Republicans and some Democrats, are able to claim some reduction in government spending, a tax cut will come out of the mill.

It will not be a net of some $10 billion the President wants, but more likely between $6 and $8 billion.

The relief, we predict, will be divided fairly equally between corporations and individual taxpayers, perhaps 60 per cent of the cut favoring individuals.

We further suspect lower income taxpayers will benefit somewhat more than those in higher brackets as individual taxpayers, again with the relief somewhat evenly divided.

It may be frustrating, but this is the way the democratic process works.

Won't Sign ECM-Afro Trade Pact

BRUSSELS (AP)—Italy and the Netherlands took the lead today in striking back at France as the ruling body of the European Common Market gathered for the first time since the French vetoed Britain's entry into the group.

Both the Italians and Dutch made plain that they would not now sign a new treaty for trade and aid with 18 African states, all but two of them former French colonies.

The delay means that for another year at least Frenchmen will have to pay higher prices for African coffee and African bananas, among other things.

Under the new agreement, aid to African producers from a six-nation $730-million fund would have taken the place of subsidies France has paid. The fund is also to help the Africans develop new crops and industries.

The Common Market Council of Ministers is meeting for a two-day session in an atmosphere tense with resentments. The other five members

Yanks Killed in Bay of Pigs, Says Sen. Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said today he has uncovered evidence that four American fliers were killed in the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he has completed a one-man inquiry into the Bay of Pigs disaster and is ready to turn his findings over to Senate investigators.

Other than to report the belief that four American lives were lost, he declined to discuss the evidence he has assembled. Some of it came from participants in the invasion and some from U.S. military personnel in the area at the time.

Verifying Reports

Dirksen later told reporters his staff has taken action to verify the reports that four fliers were downed.

But he said the information has not been checked with either the Defense Department or the Central Intelligence Agency.

He said the names of the four fliers will be available when a summary of his report is made public, possibly later this week.

The Republican leader said the four fliers were shot down in invasion planes which did not carry U.S. markings. Presumably they were in B26 bombers downed by jet trainers inherited by Fidel Castro from the overthrown Batista regime.

News stories at the time mentioned that one U.S. civilian flier might have been shot down. This report later was labeled erroneous.

Discusses Findings

Dirksen said he plans to discuss his findings with Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate's Preparedness subcommittee.

A subcommittee inquiry into the military strength of Soviet-dominated Cuba is expected to get under way this week. Stennis has indicated he regards the 1961 invasion as "spilled milk" to which the group would not be justified in devoting much time at this point, Dirksen disagreed.

"It seems to me it becomes a matter of some importance when even four American lives are lost," he said.

Tankers Collide, Catch Afire

FLUSHING, Netherlands (AP)—Two tankers collided and caught fire today on the River Scheldt. Shipping halted as a mass of burning oil drifted downstream toward the North Sea.

Crewmen of the 20,776-ton Panamanian Miraflores took to lifeboats on waters spotted by flaming oil and picked up. The captain and a Dutch pilot were missing.

The other vessel was a 13,350-ton British tanker, the Abadesa. The fire aboard it was reported quickly brought under control.

Both vessels ran aground and a third tanker, the 18,790-ton George Livanos of Panama, was stranded in trying to avoid them.

Port authorities said the collision occurred in clear weather at a narrow channel called Bat Pass, in Dutch territory about 25 miles below Antwerp, Belgium.

The Abadesa was outbound from Antwerp with a fuel oil cargo; the Miraflores inbound to Antwerp with oil from Banbar Mashur, on the Persian Gulf.

An AP News Analysis

Signs of Thaw Between Reds

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Stanley Johnson has been a member of the AP staff in Moscow for most of the past nine years. He has recently returned to New York.)

By STANLEY JOHNSON

Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Chinese Communist chief Mao Tze-tung seem to be dipping their toes gingerly into the waters of reconciliation.

There are indications from both Moscow and Peking that the leaders of the two Red giants want to bridge their ideological and political fissure which has rocked the Communist world.

Signs of a thaw in the icy relations began to appear ten days ago.

Latest Developments

Among the latest developments: 1. Mao Tze-tung called in the Soviet ambassador to China, Stepan V. Chervonov, for their first serious talk. Pravda on Sunday gave big front-page play to the meeting.

Wu Hsiu-chuan, who was publicly humiliated by Khrushchev at the East German Red party congress in Berlin, was present. Wu toured East European party congresses recently, attacking Yugoslavia and, by implication, Khrushchev.

Also present was Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Chinese President Liu Shao-chi.

2. On a slightly lower level in Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had the new Chinese ambassador, Pan Tzu-li, to lunch, obviously with Khrushchev's approval. This also was big news in Sunday's Pravda.

Importance

It was evident both ambassadors had something of importance to report to their chiefs and also that

Committee Okays More RS70 Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee approved a $15.8 billion military authorization bill today—including $363 million to step up the controversial RS70 reconnaissance strike plane program.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., said the extra money would pay for construction of two more RS70s, which the administration doesn't want to build.

The Pentagon now plans to construct three of the 2,000-mile-an-hour planes. The first is to be test flown late this spring.

Trial Begins To Name Governor

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Concessions which reduced the recount lead of Karl Rolvaag, the Democratic candidate, from 133 to 14 were made today at the opening of the recount trial involving disputed ballots in the Minnesota governorship election.

C. L. Nelson, New Prague, Rolvaag's attorney, told the three-judge District court that 241 of 249 ballots in Category 1 claimed by Rolvaag should be deleted from the total, and that 123 of 137 in this class counted for Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen should be deleted.

Category 1 involves ballots marked for either Rolvaag and William Bratz, the Industrial Government candidate, or for Andersen and Bratz.

Shift Cuts Votes

The shift cut 119 votes from Rolvaag's recount lead of 133.

Still in dispute were eight ballots in this class claimed by Rolvaag and 15 claimed by Andersen.

As the trial got under way this morning, there were no spectators, as such, in the courtroom—only party officials or members of the press.

Nearly 1½ million votes were cast for governor. The race was the closest in Minnesota's 106 years as a state.

The State Canvassing Board declared Andersen the winner by a

Culled Ballots

The trio will pass upon between 1,500 and 2,000 disputed ballots culled from the 96,000 challenged by both sides in the recount proceedings. The recount put Rolvaag ahead by 133 votes, but Andersen remained as governor pending a decision on disputed ballots.

The disputed ballots have been divided into 24 categories. The judges said they will rule on each category as it is presented to the panel.

Attorneys for the two sides have said they hope for a decision from the judges about March 20. However, the loser can appeal to the State Supreme Court. In that event, the final outcome would be delayed about another month.

Lawyer Gives Engineers, 'Pat on Back'

LAWYER AND LAWMAKER DISCUSS A POINT OF LAW—Bernard Moran, one-time state's attorney for Rock Island County (third from the left), and C. K. Willett, of the Dixon consulting engineering firm which bears his name and a state legislator, (second from the right) are shown talking about their respective roles following an address by Moran at the annual engineer's week banquet Saturday at the Nachusa House. Pictured from the left are: M. M. Memler, Dixon, district engineer for the second district of the Illinois Division of Highways; Tom Gazda, Dixon, president of the Rock River Chapter of the Illinois Society of professional engineers; Moran, Willett, and Robert Hofmann, Dixon, head of the consulting engineering firm bearing his name, who served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

By ROBERT NELLIS

Telegraph City Editor

A one-time state's attorney in Rock Island County, Saturday night gave professional engineers a "pat on the back" for the preciseness with which they are able to carry out their work and explained why lawyers have to be evasive at times.

Bernard Moran, Rock Island, for 12 years Rock Island County State's Atty. and presently associated with the law firm of Moran, Klockau, McCarthy, Schubert and Lounsberg, was principal speaker at the annual engineer's week banquet sponsored by the Rock River Chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers held in the Nachusa House.

"After eliminating the possibility of human error," said the attorney, "engineering is a mathematically exact science."

"On the other hand," he continued, "the practice of law is an inexact art."

An engineer, commented Moran, can know when a project is on the drawing board what it will be when the job is completed. He has a certainty, the counselor noted, that men of the law profession sometimes wish they had.

The Rock Island attorney said there are good reasons for the differences between the two professions. He also said there are reasons why none of us should want the law to be more exact.

"The law," according to Moran, "deals with our liberties, our property rights and the obligations humans have to one another and to society." He said these considerations are vital to our freedom.

The onetime prosecutor observed that if the law was as exact and certain as engineering is, the "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" of many of us would be denied.

If freedom is to be maintained, he asserted, the law must be flexible. The judicial procedure must be aware and take into account changing social and economic patterns of a society if

BENGHAZI, Libya (AP)—

New earth tremors struck the ancient town of Tolemaide during the night but it was not known today whether there were any casualties.

Tolemaide, a town of about 500 people settled by the Greeks before the birth of Christ, is 18 miles from El Marj, where 261 died in an earthquake last week.

In that shattered town, authorities abandoned the search for bodies and began making plans to rebuild.

Thousands of homeless moved forlornly into two encampments being rushed up outside the town. They settled down, 60 and 70 to a tent, to await provision of new homes.

"They will have a long time to wait," said one local official. "It could take months or years to rebuild El Marj. But we have been promised that the town planners will be here as soon as possible to make a start."

The 20 per cent of El Marj's buildings still standing after the quake Thursday night are too dangerous for habitation. The rest are rubble.

The death toll was estimated at 261 by British army authorities who supervised the rescue work. Libyan officials said about 40 persons were still unaccounted for.

Crowds of homeless still milled around the center of town, waiting to be directed to some kind of living quarters.

Icy Cold Due

By The Associated Press
A cold wave warning for residents of northern Illinois accompanied a forecast of temperatures as low as 10 below zero in the northwestern section by Tuesday morning.

But, with snow and falling temperatures, sharpened by a brisk north wind, Illinoisans needed no reminder that they were in winter's clutches today.

Temperatures huddled in the teens and 20s today as one to two inches of new snow accumulated over much of the state.

Skies Clear

Dropping temperatures were accompanied by clearing skies. The forecast was for fair skies tonight in northern Illinois, with temperatures dipping to the zero to 10 below range. Fair skies Tuesday will prevail in the north.

The mercury reached 17 degrees at 8 a.m. in Chicago, four degrees lower than the 6 a.m. reading. Sunday's highs were generally in the mid-20s and 30s, with 36 the high at Belleville.

Light snow fell across sections in the eastern half of the nation while the cold weather clung to northern Midwest areas.

The snow belt extended from the northern Plains eastward into the Ohio Valley and appeared headed for the middle and north Atlantic regions. Two inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in Springfield and Peoria, Ill. Snow flurries powdered areas in northern Kentucky.

Subzero Again

Subzero cold again was reported in northern Minnesota and sections of the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Michigan. Temperatures were nearly 20 below zero.

State Taxes Will Nibble At Tax Cuts

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rising state, local and Social Security taxes may nibble away a large chunk — possibly half — of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts by the time they would take effect.

The $2.2-billion increase in Social Security rates on Jan. 1 and the $500-million hike in postal rates on Jan. 7 will offset most of the $3.1 billion in individual and corporate tax savings proposed by Kennedy for 1963.

With most of the 47 state legislatures meeting this year considering tax increases totaling perhaps $2.5 billion, much of the $3.2-billion reduction envisaged in the Kennedy program for 1964 would be wiped out.

Raise Taxes

Not all the legislatures are expected to raise taxes but it's true that a four-year cycle of such action has developed, and 1963 is the year for it. Thirty-three states raised taxes in 1959.

Three other factors will be working, tax experts report, to dilute the income-boosting, investment-stimulating and job-creating benefits of Kennedy's net $10.3 billion, three-year tax reduction.

1. Part of the taxpayers' savings would be picked up automatically by the 19 states whose taxpayers can deduct federal income taxes from their taxable income. In these states a cut in federal taxes means more income would be subject to state tax.

2. In 13 states whose tax systems are tied to the federal system, the laws require that citizens compute their taxable income on about the same basis as they do for the federal income tax. The revenue-boosting reforms which Kennedy seeks—including curtailed personal deductions—would become part of these state systems, unless the state rules are changed. The federal rate cuts would not necessarily be carried over into the state systems, so state tax liability would be increased.

3. Cities and other local governments not only are pressing state legislatures to raise taxes and funnel more revenue to the cities but many are considering new taxes of their own.

WASHINGTON (P) — The United States today made the largest development loan in the history of its foreign aid program—$240 million to India.

Its purpose: to help India finance imports of priority goods. No military aid is involved.

The entire amount will be spent in the United States.

The only larger U.S. loan was for $322.7 million. It was to Britain in 1948. It was for reconstruction, not development.

Korean Forced Into Exile

SEOUL, South Korea (P)—Former secret police chief Kim Chong-pil, forced into at least temporary exile, said today he hopes his departure will stabilize South Korea's turbulent political situation.

The once-powerful Kim took an airliner to Tokyo to begin what is officially labeled a 50-day tour abroad as "ambassador at large."

There were unconfirmed reports that the winners of the power struggle within the military government were arresting some of the men who helped Kim turn the Central Intelligence Agency into a feared instrument of political power.

Kim quit as CIA chief last month to organize the Democratic-Republican political party that was to be the military's vehicle for winning power as civilians in elections this spring.

Shorn of his CIA power, Kim ran into trouble from opponents in the junta and was forced to retire from the party and politics.

Clash in Bogota

BOGOTA, Colombia (P)—The Confederation of Colombian Workers blamed the government today for a clash between troops and striking cement workers that killed 11 persons and wounded 34 near Medellin Saturday.

The confederation charged the army ignored the strikers' constitutional rights and escorted a caravan delivering cement from the plant.

The government countered that extremist elements ambushed the caravan and began shooting at the escort, forcing the troops to return fire. All the dead were strikers. Eleven soldiers were wounded. Authorities have arrested 94 persons.

The cement workers struck three weeks ago demanding higher pay and fringe benefits.

Equipment in Russia Is Idle

MOSCOW (P)—Spring planting time has come in southern Russia, but Pravda reported today that the virgin lands, just like last year, haven't got their tractors ready.

Last year at this time, Pravda reported, 9,000 tractors, 14,000 plows and 6,000 cultivators—all necessary for spring work—were idle in the virgin lands for lack of repairs.

"Repair crews should have taken into consideration the failures of last year and taken corrective action," Pravda said.

"The repair work is still unsatisfactory."

USDA's New Task: Help Rural Youth

WASHINGTON (P) — The Agriculture Department is urging extension service workers to take on a new task: helping counsel rural youth on job and career opportunities.

The extension service, which operates under a cooperative program with state extension services is the department's major educational arm. In the past its main job has been to help farmers increase farm efficiency and income.

In a guide for extension service workers, such as county agents, the department says that in the next 10 years 90 per cent of the farm boys will have to find jobs off the farm.

"As the society and economy become more complex, it is harder for young people to decide on careers," the guide said. "More young people must rely on professional counseling in making their choice."

The guide said young people and their parents are often unrealistic about their aspirations.

"Present pressures force some youths to try college education when they are not qualified. Many other youths with above average ability are not taking advantage of important educational opportunities."

One of the things the extension workers should do, the department said, is to help farm youth and their parents understand the requirements for successful farming, including capital and managerial ability.

The department said rural youth clubs, adult groups and clubs, and educational institutions should be utilized in helping enlighten young people on opportunities both on and off the land.

The plane landed near Cantrall, Ill., eight miles north of Springfield. Barnes said he will fly back to Jackson today.

Trouble With Allies Over Nuclear Weapons Has Roots In Pact Made 20 Years Ago

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trouble with the Allies over nuclear weapons has its roots in a secret agreement made 20 years ago at Quebec between President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill.

Their two nations, along with Canada, were working together to develop the atomic bomb. Their secret, wartime agreement—to exchange information on atomic development—was disclosed after the war.

But the United States ended the agreement after the war and put a lid on information. Years later, in his "Memoirs of the Second World War," Churchill still sounded terribly disappointed.

"I thought the best possible arrangements had been made in the agreement with President Roosevelt,"

Disappointed

The British were certainly disappointed. So, later, were the French. Now President Kennedy, for the sake of the cold war alliance, is trying to work some new kind of agreement. He calls it a multinational nuclear force.

That's a vague, mushy-sounding phrase. It's because Kennedy hasn't been clear on what he has in mind. For reasons that follow he probably doesn't know exactly what he can do or how far he can go. Congress has a say in this.

Roosevelt died before the war with Germany ended and was replaced by President Truman. The British replaced Churchill with Prime Minister Atlee before the war with Japan was ended.

Atlee met Truman in Washington late in 1945 to discuss a future atomic partnership. In his memoirs written years later Truman recalled asking the State Department for an interpretation of the Quebec agreement. He got this answer and stood by it: exchange of information on how to manufacture the bomb—"know-how"—was to be shared only if necessary to get the bomb made.

Understood

The department said this was understood by Churchill's experts working on the problem. But when Churchill was writing many years later he still seemed to have a different understanding.

U.S. reasoning went like this: Although the United States had a monopoly on the bomb in 1945, the Russians eventually would learn how to make it. Meanwhile, this country wasn't going to help the Russians break the monopoly by divulging manufacturing "know-how."

In Aug., 1946, Congress made the clamp-down on information doubly sure with the Atomic Energy Act.

As time passed the United States had to balance its concern about secrecy against its concern for the NATO alliance since it was holding back information in a field upon which the strength of the partnership depended.

Rearranges Thinking

The United States had to rearrange its thinking. In 1955 it agreed to exchange some information with the British who, by 1957, exploded a nuclear device of their own. The Russians by then had a bomb of their own.

In 1958 Congress amended the act of 1946, allowing the President to give allies information on weapons and materials but not weapons or parts of weapons. This could be done only when an ally had made "substantial" progress in the development of atomic weapons. It gives a president room for choosing.

So far Britain has qualified, but not France, although France has had its own atomic explosions. They are the only two who have made what might be considered substantial progress. French President de Gaulle wants to make his own nuclear force.

He has this kind of concern, involving the most important restriction of all in the law Congress passed: no matter where American nuclear weapons are placed — say in Europe — the United States must not turn control of them over to anyone else. Thus the United States alone can say when, or if, a weapon is to be fired.

De Gaulle Fears

This leaves De Gaulle with the fear — and who can say this country would not feel the same if the positions were reversed?—that in some crisis the United States, for its own reasons, might not be willing to pull the trigger to back up its allies.

Now Kennedy has offered Britain

Walnut High Council Has Meeting

WALNUT—The Walnut Community High School Educational Council met Wednesday. The date for the March meeting is March 27.

The annual school election dates were discussed. The election will be on April 13. Nominating petitions may be filed on Feb. 27 and not later than March 23. Petitions have been circulated for the incumbent board members.

The 1963-1964 basketball schedule was discussed. Instead of playing a double round in the conference, Walnut will play single games with the five southern division schools, and two games with each of the other northern division schools. Instead of the five distant schools, Walnut will — and France, too, although France turned him down — missiles for which she will have to make her own warheads.

Still unanswered because Kennedy as of now probably doesn't know the answer is this question:

What good are the missiles to the allies if they don't have warheads to put on them. He can't give them the warheads unless Congress changes the law, so what does it add up to? Nobody seems to know.

play Ohio, Tiskilwa, Western and Rock Falls.

It is planned to have school on May 28 to make up the one day missed because of road conditions.

A six week reading improvement program will be conducted. A selected group of students will attempt to improve their reading comprehension. A controlled reading machine will be donated for the project. Tests will be used to determine improvement in reading speed and comprehension.

Possible changes in the mathematics program was discussed. Plane geometry and solid geometry may be combined into a one unit course. An additional introductory course into college mathematics may be offered during the senior year.

Plans for the proposed shop addition were reviewed.

Senior students interested in attending the University of Illinois should be encouraged to write on the tests given in the county superintendent's office March 30.

Teacher education scholarships are available for students in the upper 50 per cent of the senior class. The scholarships may be used at the following state universities: Southern, Eastern, Normal, Western, and Northern. Scholarship notices are posted on the bulletin board in the high school library.

Death Toll on State Highways Reaches 16

By The Associated Press

Death on Illinois highways showed a marked increase the past weekend compared with previous winter weekends as three members of a family were killed in one accident and four double fatalities added to the toll.

From 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, The Associated Press counted 16 deaths on highways in the state.

The worst single accident occurred Sunday on Illinois 47 just south of Saunemin in Livingston County. Killed were Mrs. Doris Wiltz, 45, and her two sons, Edward, 12, and Richard, 9, all of Reselle. Mrs. Wiltz's mother, Mrs. Ella Beardsley, 70, of Bourbon, was critically hurt and Ernest Wiltz, 47, father of the dead children and driver of the car, was hospitalized.

State police said the three victims were thrown from the burning car after it struck a bridge as it skidded.

Bobby J. Wells, 19, of Alicia, Ark., and Larry Holliday, 18, of Hoxie, Ark., were killed Sunday when their auto struck a semi-trailer truck on U.S. 66 in McLean.

Killed Sunday when the car in which they were riding was struck by a freight train in Gilman were Tommy Copas, 29, and his daughter, Rebecca, 5. Both victims were from Gilman. Authorities said there were signals at the crossing.

A third double fatal Sunday killed Gerald Storer, 24, of Belleville and William W. Koch, 23, of Webster Groves, Mo. The head-on collision occurred on Illinois 13 near Belleville.

Robert Shackelford, 27, of Dedham, Mass., and Lenore Patricia LaCross, 20, of Oak Lawn, were killed Saturday when their auto left a snow-packed highway, skidded back on it and then smashed broadside into another car on Illinois 47 north of Mahomet. Shackelford was an economics instructor at the University of Illinois where Miss LaCross was a student.

James Vancil, 20, of Gillespie was killed in a two-car collision Sunday night on Illinois Highway 4. George Contratto Sr., 61, of Bend, driver of the other car, was in serious condition.

In other accidents: Anthony Ziolo of Chicago was killed Saturday when his car struck a light pole at 79th and Cicero.

James Keel, 24, of Collinsville, was killed Saturday when his car hit several telephone poles in Granite City.

Wilson L. Sapho, 34, of East St. Louis, was killed when his auto overturned five miles south of Madison Saturday.

Another single accident killed Gerald Snyder Jr., 14, of Granite City, when he was struck by a car Saturday while crossing the street.

Accidents Reported by State Police

ROCKFORD — Three Rochelle drivers were involved in an accident Saturday afternoon on Rt. 51 near the Winnebago-Ogle County line.

Lois E. Kingma, 61, Rochelle, was arrested for improper lane usage after her southbound auto skidded off the road, hit a post, and came back on the road into the path of two northbound vehicles driven by Edith G. Davis, 69, and Clarence H. Palmer, 52, both of Rochelle, according to State Police.

The approaching Davis car hit the Kingma auto which went into a ditch and then pushed the Davis auto into a collision with the Palmer car, police said.

Damage to the autos was estimated at $350 to the Kingma car, $300 to the Davis auto and $50 to the Palmer car.

MOUNT MORRIS — Michael F. Broderick Jr., 24, Oregon, was arrested for driving too fast for conditions following a one-car accident at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the west edge of Mount Morris.

State Police said the southbound auto skidded off the road and hit a telephone pole, then continued on for 117 feet where it struck a mailbox. Damage to the auto was estimated at $150.

PAW PAW — An accident at 5:05 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Rt. 30 and the Paw Paw road resulted in the arrest of a Canadian driver, Anthony Chermushenko, 26, for improper passing and lane usage.

State Police said an auto driven by Edgar L. Cobb, 28, Sycamore, was turning left at the intersection when it was struck on the left side by the overtaking Chermushenko car.

The Canadian told police he thought the Cobb auto was turning right although the left turn signal was flashing.

Damage to the Cobb auto was estimated at $85; to the Chermushenko car, $100.

HALDANE — An arrest is pending in the investigation of an accident at 4:45 p.m. Saturday on Rt. 26 at the Haldane Corners.

State Police said an auto driven by James Cherrier, Sterling, struck the left side of an auto driven by Leslie Harmon, 52, Forreston, as the Harmon auto was making a left turn onto the Haldane road.

A passenger in the Cherrier auto, Mike Dombroski, 11, Sterling, received minor injuries in the accident. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Cherrier auto and $150 to the Harmon car.

Estimated damage to the auto was $400.

Recovery teams built temporary barricades dividing tunnels into sections. Each section was filled individually with fresh air as workers moved ahead into fume-filled areas to build more barricades.

Market . . .

—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — are angry with the French for black-balling Britain. The French feel that the others are ganging up on them.

The African treaty was to have been signed this week at Yaounde, Cameroon. Now it seems likely to be deferred at least until the end of May. By that time Italy and the Netherlands will have elected new parliaments.

Informed sources said deferment of the agreement angered French representative Jean Marc Boegner, who said, "This will be unfortunate for the Common Market."

The African treaty is close to the hearts of the French because it would tie the whole former French empire in Africa to the Common Market. The other European nations do not oppose it but they want to show their annoyance with the French.

Lawyer . . .

it is to administer the maximum justice possible.

Moran explained how laws are made. The first he mentioned is the United States Constitution and the constitutions of the states of the union. The second, he said, are the laws passed by the Congress and the 50 state legislatures. Finally, the legal practitioner told the engineers there is the body of English common law.

The latter constitutes most of the laws under which we live, he said.

Common Law

The common law was adopted by the U.S. Constitution and the state constitutions, Moran maintained. It has been amended to particularize certain applications by the formulations of law in the U.S. Constitution and the state constitutions.

In addition, the Congress and state legislatures have passed laws for specific purposes, but most law governing civil cases derives yet from English common law, he said.

All laws, whether common law or specifically legislated laws, are subject to interpretation by the courts, Moran pointed out.

Trial courts also make law because decisions handed down become precedent. Since the actors in our courts are human, and since the trial judge has arbitrary power in his courtroom, court decisions will not always agree.

It comes to a situation, Moran observed, where you have court decisions which are almost contradictory and where there is a point of law on which there is no ruling of the Illinois Supreme Court.

The counselor in the case and the judge who hears such a case will both search to find precedents concerning the legal point from courts in other states. They might find that 30 state supreme courts have handed down opinions concerning the point at issue. However, they may also discover that 14 of the courts decided it one way and 16 of them held a different interpretation.

Asks Engineers

Then he asked the engineers, "How is an attorney to be sure how a judge or jury will decide such a question?" The law becomes, Moran declared, "opinion based on opinion and this makes a mathematically logical science impossible."

The lawyer said there are times members of the legal profession may wish they could work the rules of law like an engineer organizes principles when he is planning to build a bridge.

"But," he quickly added, "I like our system and am not critical of my profession."

The law in practice is sometimes neither logical nor reasonable, he admitted, however he defended it saying, "in a stumbling way, it is the best way we know bring order by law and at the same time preserve the maximum amount of liberty and freedom for our citizens."

Too Many Pizzas

SECAUCUS, N.J. — He could eat six pizzas at one sitting and finish off a case of beer watching television, said his long time friend.

He was warned two months ago that his weight was endangering his life, said his physician, Dr. A. T. Stokes.

And Sunday a heart attack killed John Sully Jr.

Sully was 29, 5 feet 10 and weighed 650 pounds.

they had had something of importance to say to their hosts.

Khrushchev singled out Pan for ostentatious attention at a Moscow reception. He publicly pledged the eternal brotherhood of the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Then Pravda printed a long editorial which, as the Chinese had done previously, deplored the publicity surrounding the dispute. It said the Soviet Communist party would meet privately with any fraternal party no matter what quarrels lay between them. Such a meeting, Pravda said, could then be followed by an international session of the world Communist movement.

Elect New Auxiliary Officers

Mrs. Paul Potts was re-elected president of the Service Club Auxiliary of KSB Hospital at the auxiliary's annual meeting held Friday evening in Loveland Community House. Also re-elected were Mrs. David Ames, recording secretary, and Mrs. Patterson Curtis, corresponding secretary.

New officers named were Mrs. Henry Jensen, vice president, and Mrs. John McLane, treasurer. Previous to her first term as president, Mrs. Potts served as vice president of the auxiliary and has been an active member of the gift shop staff since its opening.

The annual financial and activities reports for the past year were read by Mrs. Robert LeSage, Mrs. Richard Durkes, Mrs. Thomas Bemis and Mrs. Curtis, and Mrs. Harry Kerz, chairman of the membership committee, reported the auxiliary's members numbered 286 at the end of 1962.

Volunteer Hours
Mrs. Oliver Rogers, volunteer services co-chairman, reported that volunteers contributed 12,098 hours of work during the past year, easing the burden of the professional hospital staff. The 190 Pink Ladies gave 9,882 hours and 82 teenage Candy Strippers worked 2,216 hours. Volunteers operate the auxiliary's gift shop, gift cart and snack bar in the hospital and serve as escorts and aides in X-ray, central supply, diet therapy and paramedical areas.

Each year funds have been raised by the auxiliary for KSB Hospital through a variety of projects. During the past year, the auxiliary established a $1,000 annual scholarship fund for nurses of KSB Hospital for graduate work. The year also marked the opening of the auxiliary's new snack bar in the hospital which, like the gift shop, was constructed and equipped through auxiliary funds. Proceeds from both shops are used to benefit the hospital.

Annual recognition awards for volunteer service were presented for the first time at the Friday evening meeting. Mrs. Potts explained the system of awards was based on the number of hours worked within the hospital during the past year. Hours of service, beginning Jan. 1, 1962, are accumulative and volunteers will receive recognition at the auxiliary's annual meeting each year. Volunteers are honored on the following basis: a ribbon for the first 50 hours; a pin for 100 hours, and a star for each additional 100 hours.

100 Receive Awards
Miss Agnes Florence, KSB Hospital Administrator, presented the awards to volunteers who earned recognition for work performed during the past year, and was assisted by auxiliary scheduling chairmen, Mrs. Donald McWethy, in-services; Mrs. Clarence Wilson, snack bar, and Mrs. Durkes, gift shop and gift cart chairman.

In presenting the awards, Miss Florence said, "On behalf of the board of directors, medical staff, hospital administration and hospital personnel, I want to thank the Service Club Auxiliary for the many, many hours of service given to the hospital. The auxiliary's volunteers plus our paid personnel help to give better patient care."

Contributing the greatest number of hours last year were Mrs. Wayne Wolfe, 300 to 400 hours; Mrs. Gordon Bennett, Mrs. I. B. Countryman, Mrs. Elmer Cross, Mrs. Wilson Dysart, Mrs. Edward Mann, Mrs. Paul Potts and Mrs. Robert Warner, each with 200 to 300 hours of service.

Pink Ladies honored for 100 to 200 hours were Mrs. Harlan Benson, Mrs. Harold Burbank, Mrs. E. A. Clevidence, Mrs. Viola Crawford, Mrs. Ragnar Erickson, Mrs. B. J. Fraser, Mrs. Robert Hammerstrom, Mrs. Werner Marloth, Mrs. Merton Memler, Mrs. McWethy, Mrs. Harry Newcomer, Mrs. Herbert Parker, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Duncan Rowles, Mrs. Homer Schildberg, Mrs. Carl Spangler, Mrs. Robert Swaney, Mrs. Joseph Wilcox, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Marvin Winger.

Recognition for 50 to 100 hours of work was earned by Mesdames L. W. Anderson, Robert Batt, Thomas Bemis, Robert Benson, Sheldon Bross, Thomas Cavanaugh, Harold Coss, Robert Cummings, Patterson Curtis, James Dishman, Howard Edwards Jr., Victor Eichler, Arthur Eicholz, Stephen Fleming, Matt Goral, Earl Groves, William Gunner, Thomas Hayden, H. Fateful Year on Labor Front

Nineteen-sixty-three began on a pessimistic note, with heldover newspaper shutdowns in Cleveland and New York and a longshoremen's strike along the East Coast. Only the latter has been settled.

If the year continues the way it began, it may go down as one of the most strife-filled years in U.S. labor history. Even if there are no more major strikes, it still will be a notable—and perhaps fateful—year.

No less than 94 major wage contracts expire this year, mostly in May and June, reports the National Industrial Conference Board. Nearly a quarter of a million American union workers will be affected.

Largest groups involved are in communications (347,000 workers), electrical machinery (182,000) and apparel (173,000). Another 3.7 million workers are involved in another 192 major contracts that provide for reopenings on wages or other issues.

There have been a number of recent warnings that the nation was becoming disturbed about strikes. Congress rumbled ominously during the maritime strike and there were hints about passing restrictive laws.

Unless there is a wave of strikes of serious proportions, however, there will be no such legislation this year. But 1963 may well set patterns that will determine the course of labor-management relations for the rest of the decade.

It remains to be seen whether it will be a spectacle of power bloc against power bloc or whether responsible bargainers will attempt to strike a balance between the interests of individual workers and industries as a whole caught up in a changing technology.

CATASTROPHE TOLL

The dictionary defines "catastrophe" as, among other things, a sudden calamity or disaster or misfortune. As used by statisticians, a catastrophe is any accident in which five or more people are killed.

Nearly 1,300 persons lost their lives in catastrophes in the United States last year, records the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Seven major catastrophes accounted for 325 of those deaths. Four were airplane crashes, two were windstorms and floods, one a coal mine explosion.

Ruth Millett

"Did you ever notice," asks one of my women readers, "how few words there are to tell a man he looks especially handsome?"

"Any woman knows the importance of a thoughtful compliment when she has put extra effort into looking her best. And it makes a difference whether she is told she looks beautiful, lovely, glamorous, pretty, gorgeous—or any of dozens of other words that an observant man can use to give a woman a real lift."

"Yet when we women can see at a glance that a man has dressed with special care and attention to detail, what can we say other than 'My, how handsome you look?'"

"I've combed a thesaurus trying to find words to compliment the men of my family when I notice that extra-careful shave, those just-polished shoes, that tie carefully chosen for a certain suit, and the kind of shining radiance men exude when they have made a special effort to look their very best. But the complimentary adjectives suitable for a man are mighty scarce—'dashing,' 'handsome,' 'debonair.' What else is there?"

Come to think of it, the ways in which you can tell a man he looks especially handsome are pretty limited.

But even so, most men would probably be content if their wives would just notice how they look and make any kind of comment.

Most husbands would be pleased just to have their wives comment when they get a haircut, praise the fit of a new suit, approve of a new necktie, or brag a bit when they lose a few pounds.

Men aren't used to a lot of fancy compliments. Most any of them will gladly settle for "handsome," if the woman who says "How handsome you look" has really looked good and long, and with obvious approval, before speaking her mind.

"—And I Understand He Doesn't Even Belong to the Union!"New Services Cater to Homeowner Wanting HelpBy SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The couple wanting professional help in fitting out its home hasn't far to look today. Builders, manufacturers, retail stores, all increasingly cater to the customer's own taste, or offer to upgrade it in his home, old or new.

In a number of localities the construction industry is going in for combinations. Builders, architects, interior decorators, furnishing suppliers are offering professional advice as a unit.

Some of the nation's best known stores have offered similar service for generations. But in the last decade this move has spread widely. One reason is that more customers demand it. Either their own taste is improving, or keeping up with the Joneses calls for this outside aid. Another reason is that many times as many persons now can afford such service as could at the end of World War II.

Prices Increase

Perhaps thanks to this, prices of antiques have risen smartly. Some 14,000 dealers in them in the nation are doing a better than $450 million a year business. And for persons who want the floss up the home without permanent outlay, rental services deal in art, music records and tape recordings.

Upgrading has moved beyond the home into such fields as office furniture and decor and even to giving factory machinery and walls a more aesthetic appearance.

Department stores and quality shops have been in the forefront of the effort to raise taste—and to sell taste. Some of the stores that have worked that side of the street for many years include, to name just a few, Marshall Field in Chicago, Altman's and Lord & Taylor in New York, John Wanamaker in Philadelphia and the New York suburbs.

Bonwit Teller in New York organized a Consumer Advisory Board of eight women social leaders. Bamberger's in Newark, N.J., set up a Customer Advisory Committee on which club women served.

Rich's, Inc., in Atlanta, Lord & Taylor and Bloomingdale's in New York have conducted contests for architects. Macy's, John Wanamaker and H. S. Pogue in Cincinnati are among those constructing full-size homes of various types. Well-staffed speakers bureaus have been maintained by Bamberger's, J. L. Hudson's in Detroit and L. S. Ayres in Indianapolis, among others.

Service Growing

A stable of interior decorators to find for customers what they want or to steer them toward what they may only vaguely know they want is found in many stores across the land. This service is growing. Leonard's in Fort Worth, Tex., enlarged its budget to train in-home consultants. J. C. Penney announced a new in-home selling and consulting service for its Orlando, Fla., store. Hager's department store in Lancaster, Pa., stressed decorating skills in matching floor coverings to draperies, wallpaper and furniture.

Sears, Roebuck is employing designers to improve both its expensive and economical models of many types of goods, and has turned to merchandising works of art.

Retailers and manufacturers are spreading out ever further into cultural fields. The Dallas Symphony Orchestra played at the Dallas Marver Center for buyers at the home furnishings market. In New York the National Design Center houses many exhibits of manufacturers and decorators putting on the soft sell for both home owners and industrial purchasing agents. Also in New York the I. Miller Shoe Co. displays both paintings and shoes at its spectacularly designed Fifth Avenue store.

Jersey Standard Oil this year is giving a soft sell over television in its Festival of Performing Arts, after successful showing in other years of the Play of the Week.

And the Stanford Research Institute in Palo Alto, Calif., estimates that 14 million Americans a year engage in spectator culture. That many attend concerts, theaters, art galleries.

Buyers To Speak
In Forrester

FORRESTER—Two livestock buyers from the new Swift and Co. packing plant, Rochelle, are scheduled to be at the Forrester Community Club this evening.

They are J. F. Wirthwein, the hog buyer, and J. M. Schmidt, the cattle buyer. Both men will discuss current market trends and answer questions from the group. Forty farmers and merchants from the Forrester area are expected to attend.

The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall by the auxiliary members, followed by the meeting in the Legion Hall.

The Doctor
SaysBy WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for NEA

Every child misbehaves now and then but every child does not have a behavior problem. Dr. W. H. Missildine, who has made a study of both parents and children in a group of such cases, found that behavior problems are never one-sided. The behavior of the child is the effect, but the behavior of the parent is usually the cause.

Does your child have temper tantrums and disregard the rights of others? Then consciously or unconsciously you have encouraged him by giving in to his childish whims without regard for the effect of those whims on others. Does he lack initiative or the capacity for sustained effort? Then perhaps you have made it too easy for him to get the material things he wants by being overindulgent. Does he exaggerate every minor physical discomfort? Is he a junior hypochondriac? Then, likely, he is only mimicking the attitudes he has observed in you.

Does your child dawdle, lose himself in daydreams, and forget easily? Then, possibly, you have disregarded his right to follow his own interests. Does he seem overly serious, worried, and inclined to belittle himself? Then you, perfectionist that you are, may have demanded of him levels of achievement beyond his present development.

Is your child an embittered, hostile lone wolf? Then maybe you have failed to take the time to get to know him. The most unfortunate thing about all these cause-and-effect patterns is that the more you upbraid your child for his failings, the worse they are likely to become.

The only hope for improvement lies in creating in your home an atmosphere of mutual respect. You must set reasonable rules of conduct early in your child's life and then hold to them. Every child who is over 5 years of age should have some definite chores to perform, not for himself alone but for the whole family.

On the other hand, he needs some relief from nervous parental pressures regarding his food, clothing, health, interests, friends, and accomplishments. Parents too must have some adult hobbies of their own that take them away from the children for a few hours every week.

Mutual respect assumes that mental well-being is furthered by allowing each member of the family to pursue his own interests in his own way so long as he doesn't interfere with the rights of others.

Q—My son, now 5 years old got the measles at the age of 16 months. The doctor told me he had a classic case of measles except that he had no cough. Have you ever heard of a case of measles without a cough?

A—When I was in medical school I was taught that measles is a cough with a rash, but over the years I have learned that there are exceptions to every rule. A measles-like rash without a cough is common in children with German measles.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Readers: The letter from an irate Landers Fan who sounded off about "old gaffers" being dangerous drivers produced an avalanche of angry mail. I heard from 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Bermuda and South Africa. Here's a sample of what my week has been like:

New York: My husband is 82 years old. He drives to his office in Manhattan every day. Of course we all pray before he leaves the house and we feel this helps.

Ohio: There are more than 5½ million drivers in Ohio. Upward of 2 million drivers have NEVER been examined. A learner's permit costs 75 cents and a three-year license costs $1. (Same as in 1936!) Perhaps your column will persuade Ohio legislators to raise this ridiculous ante and use the money to set up a decent licensing and inspection program in Ohio.

Florida: There's a popular gag down here—"Old drivers never die—they go to Tampa or St. Pete." It's true, Ann. The arthritic, the lame, the halt and the blind can get their drivers' licenses renewed in Florida by mail. It's a disgrace.

Kentucky: My license expired and I had to take a test like a beginner. I was furious but it turned out to be a good idea because I had to re-study the rules and it was amazing how much I didn't know. They're tough about expired licenses in Kentucky, yet if your license hasn't expired, you can get a renewal by mail. (We lose more colonels this way.)

Virginia: Virginia's terrible roads kill more people than lousy drivers.

Kansas: A recent survey of Kansas drivers showed a number of people holding licenses who claimed tax exemption allowed only to the blind. No attempt has been made to correct this idiotic situation.

Illinois: I'm proud to say that every driver in our state has to take a beginner's test when he reaches 70 years of age. No automatic renewals for old codgers in the Land O' Lincoln!

Arkansas: Mother is 78. She doesn't know anything about a car except how to start it and how to stop it. She ignores stop signs and drives on the sidewalk. The local police look the other way because she's such a "sweet old lady." Arkansas' driving laws are positively medieval.

Montana: In this state if the body is warm and they can find $3.00 in a pocket, the corpse can get a two-year license to drive.

Missouri: The Show Me state can be shown a few things about enlightened legislation for drivers. There are no laws in Missouri to protect us against senile, deaf, half-blind, crippled drivers. Help!

Texas: Please, Ann Landers, print something in your column to embarrass the great state of Texas into junking her antiquated system of renewing drivers' licenses automatically. It's frightening.

Alabama: This is the worst state in the Union to drive in. If you value your life stay out of Alabama.

Minnesota: We still have 50-year-old laws here for drivers. Renewals go out in the mails by the thousands. Age or physical condition mean nothing in Minnesota.

Indiana: I'm happy to say Indiana is leading the way to traffic safety with its re-examination law for drivers' licenses. A test must be taken every four years.

Georgia: We have a horrible accident rate because of outmoded laws. Please, Ann, shame our backward state into action. The carnage on the highways of Georgia is shocking.

North Carolina: For the fifth straight year North Carolina's driving license system was rated first by the American Association of Motor Vehicles Administration. We are proud.

And now dear readers—here is the blockbuster. Only 14 states require tests for re-licensing. If YOU live in a state with horse and buggy laws write to your governor and yell your head off. The life you save could be your own.

Things Dixon
Talked About

(From the files of The Dixon Evening Telegraph)

10 YEARS AGO
Central Front, Korea (P)—Pvt. Robert Frankhauser walked back to his tank the other night feeling well pleased with himself. He had just captured two Chinese Reds single-handed and marched them back to his tank company command post.

He remembered every detail—waiting patiently while the Chinese crept up on the tank. Then springing up and waving his .45 caliber automatic in their faces. He chuckled as he recalled the shock on their faces, the way their eyes glued on his pistol, how they dropped their burp guns and shot their hands into the air.

Still chuckling, he patted the .45 in his holster, pulled it out and got the shock of his life. It wasn't loaded.

The Dixon Youth Center got another boost today when the Vandenberg Paint Co., volunteered four gallons of paint with which the youth center members will use to refurbish the walls and woodwork.

Franklin Grove won its seventh game in 17 starts last night by handling Lee Center its 13th setback of the season, 53-34. Last night's contest closed out the season for both clubs.

Police Dogs To Join State Police Units

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Joseph E. Ragen, Illinois public safety director, says four police dogs now undergoing training will join state police units in about six weeks.

Two of the animals, to be used with state troopers for investigative and patrol work, will be available to the Chicago area and two in the East St. Louis area, Ragen announced Saturday.

More animals will be provided through a breeding program involving two females and two males at the Illinois State Farm, he said.

Kennedy Takes Blunt Issue With Tax Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy took blunt issue today with critics of his tax cut plan, saying they have an obligation to offer positive alternatives if they don't like his top priority package.

Kennedy argued his proposal would promote the kind of economic growth that could add a total of $5,000 to the income of the average American family during the next 10 years. That would be an average annual earnings increase of $500 per family.

In a major address prepared for a symposium sponsored by the American Bankers Association, Kennedy said his own tax bill may not be perfect. He acknowledged that it "is now under attack from both the left and the right."

But the attackers, he said, "are under some obligation to put forward a solution of their own" to the growth-rate problem if they don't like his idea of cutting taxes by $10.2 billion during the next three years.

Sharp Words
He also had sharp words for those who want lower taxes, provided they reap the biggest benefits.

"The prospects for tax reduction and economic growth must not be endangered by squabbles over who will benefit most," he asserted.

The ABA symposium was called to enable some 300 executives and analysts from public and private life to hear discussions of economic growth and possible ways of achieving it.

Kennedy aimed his remarks directly at the principal arguments advanced by critics of his call for the largest tax cut in the nation's history.

Biting in References
He was particularly biting in references to what he termed "heated talk about budget increases—partisan talk about swollen federal payrolls—exasperated talk about increasing the

Mt. Morris Girl Wins Debate Award

Forreston, Ohio Host Tourneys

By BRUCE RICHARDSON
Telegraph Sports Editor
State tournament action for some 252 schools across the state will get underway this week as forty-four Illinois District High School tournaments are scheduled to begin Monday. The 44 district champs will advance to regional tournaments the following week.

Forreston and Ohio in the Telegraph area will host district meets this year. Both won district tournaments last year.

The Forreston tournament will get underway Tuesday with two games scheduled for the first night. Leaf River meets Ashton in the first game Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. while Byron plays Ashton in the second at 8:15 p.m.

Stillman Valley received the first seed for the tourney and joins second ranked Forreston with byes for the meet. Stillman Valley will play the winner of the Leaf River-Ashton game in second round play while Forreston meets the winner of the Byron-Ashton game. Byron is seeded number three.

Winner of the Forreston District will advance to the Dixon Regional Tournament starting March 5.

The four day Ohio District Tournament opens Tuesday with a triple header on the opening night card. Single sessions will be played the remaining three nights of the meet.

Tuesday night action will see Wyanet taking on DePue, Malden meeting Tiskilwa and host Ohio playing LaMoille.

Manlius, the number one seed in the tournament, drew a bye for the first round and will kick off the semi-finals Wednesday playing the winner of the Wyanet game Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Winners of the other two games Tuesday will play Thursday night at 7:30 p.m., with the finals slated to begin Friday at 7:30 p.m. The winner of the Ohio District advances to the regional Princeton the following week.

Ohio, the third seeded team in this year's tourney, won the crown last year but dropped its first game in the regional. Tiskilwa is seeded number two this year.

Paw Paw's Bulldogs will be seeking a district title in the Earlville Tournament starting Tuesday. Paw Paw meets Serena in the kickoff game Tuesday beginning at 7 p.m.

All tournament finals will be played Friday.

The route to the state championship for a district team is a hard and rocky one. Only one district winner has ever won the state title.

Hebron's Green Giants of the Shark Conference turned the trick in 1952.

Wall Cops Caracas Golf Tournament; Knudson 2nd

CARACAS, Venezuela (U)—Art Wall, the pro from Pocomo Manor, Pa., who has been plagued by a variety of ailments in recent years, may have regained the touch that made him golf's top money winner and won him the U.S. Masters title in 1959.

"I feel now I have broken the barrier and my luck will change," the 39-year-old Wall said Sunday after his first tourney victory in 2½ years. He won the Caracas Open with a 72-hole total of 274, 6-under-par.

Wall, whose last tourney victory was in the Canadian Open in July 1960, stood off the pressure of fast-closing young George Knudson of Toronto and put together a 1-under-par 69 on the final round to go with previous rounds of 67, 70 and 68.

Wall, who topped the money-winners with $39,167.60 in 1959 and was the PGA's "Gopher of the Year" that year, picked up $1,300 for his victory on the third stop of the Caribbean tour.

Knudson, who was second with a 276, won $1,100 and moved into the lead for the cup, emblematic of the over-all winner on the tour with 75 points. He had Sunday's best round, a 66, closing from five strokes back.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Wadsworth Advances to State Meet

PEORIA — Mike Wadsworth will represent Dixon High School at the Illinois High School Wrestling Tournament this weekend after winning the 165-pound division title at the Peoria Sectional Wrestling Tournament Saturday afternoon.

Wadsworth, also North Central Illinois Conference and Savanna District champs, gain his third title of the season in winning the sectional crown. In his three matches at Peoria, Wadsworth won two points by pins with the third victory coming on a 2-0 decision. He decided Mike Hobbs of Moline for the title.

Dixon's other two entries in the Peoria Sectional did not place in the first two positions. Roy Klapprodt at 112 won his first match by default but lost his second match by a decision, 3-2. He claimed fourth place in the sectional losing in the consolation finals.

Rich Jessie wrestling in the 145-pound class lost his first match Friday night by a 7-6 decision.

Moline High School walked away with four individual titles in the two-day meet. Ralph Cook took the 95-pound title while Jerry Wallace copped the 130 pound crown. Ken Mital and Paasch took the titles in the 145 pound and heavyweight divisions for the Moline squad.

Sterling's Golden Warriors copped two individual crowns. Jed Walker took the 154 pound title while Rick Selover captured the 180 pound championship.

Rock Island's Rocks also took home two individual titles with Jim Hecht winning the 124 pound division and John Blecher winning the 138 pound title.

The remaining four championships were divided between Dixon, Savanna, Alleen of Rock Island and Peoria Woodruff.

Gary Grundall of Savanna claimed the 102 title and Jim Kassenburg took home the 112 championship for Alleen. Woodruff's lone title was won by Garry Brown in the 133 pound class.

First and second place winners in each weight division qualified for the State Tournament this weekend at the University of Illinois' Huff Gym.

Augustana Holds CCI League Lead

By The Associated Press

Augustana's inability to clinch its first College Conference of Illinois basketball championship at home last week forces the Vikings to win it on the road.

If they fail, then Carroll College could come in for a share of the crown. Augustana could have sewed it up at home Friday but dropped a 61-58 decision to Carthage. It was the Vikings' first CCI loss this season.

Now Augustana must invade rugged North Central Friday and if the Vikings fail there, the next stop will be Carroll College Saturday night.

Illinois Wesleyan closed its conference campaign over the weekend with a split. Wesleyan defeated North Park 66-57 and then dropped a 72-71 decision to North Central Saturday. Millikin defeated North Park 73-71 following a 90-75 loss at North Central.

The rest of the teams finish up this week with North Park at Lake Forest Wednesday; Augustana at North Central and Carthage at Millikin Friday and Augustana at Carroll Saturday.

NCAA Fills All At-Large Spots

By The Associated Press
Cincinnati has won its shot at a third consecutive national college basketball championship and the line of challengers to the mighty Bearcats is gradually growing longer.

Arizona State, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Texas captured conference titles Saturday night with them, automatic berths in the NCAA tournament. In addition, all 10 at-large spots in the coast-to-coast classic have been filled, with Pitt clinching the last one Saturday night.

Still to be settled in the closing two weeks of the regular season are no less than 11 conference races, with NCAA trips contingent upon each.

Arizona State's four-ranked Sun Devils won the first Western Athletic Conference title, winning at home against New Mexico 72-62 while Utah was erasing Brigham Young's chances, 106-100 in overtime.

St. Joseph's swept to its fifth straight Middle Atlantic crown with a 66-49 victory over LaSalle, at the Philadelphia Palestra. Texas' 92-76 decision at Southern Methodist and Texas Tech's 74-73 home victory over Rice combined to clinch the Southwest championship for the Longhorns.

Pitt earned the remaining NCAA at-large berth by swamping Penn State 83-67 at Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati, its Missouri Valley title already secure, had a scare at home in a 55-54 squeaker over Tulsa. The top-ranked Bearcats had to come from 14 points back in the second half to get their 21st victory in 22 starts.

Wichita, seventh-ranked and an NIT entry, was topped at Bradley 65-64 in another Missouri Valley game.

Duke's Blue Devils, No. 2 nationally, completed a perfect regular season in the Atlantic Coast Conference, rapping North Carolina 106-93. Art Heyman thrilled the home crowd with 40 points and 24 rebounds as Duke won its 15th straight and finished with a 14-0 mark in the ACC.

The Southern Conference also has its three-day tourney beginning Thursday, with regular season champion West Virginia the choice. The Mountaineers crushed George Washington 104-86 Saturday night at West Virginia.

Two NCAA-bound independents in the nation's top ten topped Saturday night victories. Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago got by at Houston 62-58 and 10th-ranked New York University won at St. Francis of New York, 76-62.

St. Mary's Wins Freeport Meet; Advances to Elgin

FREEPORT — St. Mary's heavy-weight grade school basketball team collected more laurels Sunday night as they won the Freeport District Championship downing St. Mary's of Sterling, 28-25, in the finals.

The Dixon team will now advance to the Diocese Tournament of Champions in Elgin, March 3. District champs from Freeport, Elgin, Aurora and Rockford are entered in the two session tourney.

In winning the title, St. Mary's defeated four teams. They downed St. Mary's of Freeport Friday night, 61-16 and topped St. Andrew's of Rock Falls the following day, 26-20.

Sunday afternoon St. Mary's advanced to finals by dropping St. Joseph's of Freeport, 37-34, and won the title Sunday night downing St. Mary's of Sterling, 28-25.

The semi-finals for the tournament of champs will be held Sunday afternoon with the finals scheduled Sunday night.

Celtics Down Lakers in NBA Action

By The Associated Press

Some Los Angeles pro basketball fans apparently aren't content with deriding the referee when their team loses.

Take Sunday night in Los Angeles when the invading Boston Celtics routed the Lakers 119-109 in the National Basketball Association. At half-time with Boston ahead 66-51 some in the crowd of 14,828 trapped referee Norm Drucker near the dressing room. He was mauled and kicked in the shins before being rescued by police.

Drucker said he wasn't hurt enough to keep him from officiating in the second half. He had been roundly booed by some Laker rooters because of calls they thought favored the Celtics.

In NBA Sunday afternoon games the Detroit Pistons beat the Cincinnati Royals 119-110 at Baltimore, the St. Louis Hawks drubbed the San Francisco Warriors 127-106 and the Syracuse Nats whipped the New York Knicks 143-126. Detroit beat Cincinnati 105-102 and San Francisco downed Chicago 92-88 Saturday night.

The champion Celtics piled up a 30-point lead on the Lakers at 94-64 before Coach Red Auerbach pulled his regulars and Los Angeles scored 16 straight points.

Golden Gloves Tourney Opens In Chicago

CHICAGO (U)—The 36th annual Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions, boxing's biggest amateur show, opens in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

About 80 bouts will be held in three rings both tonight and Tuesday night, with the field of 240 to be cut for the quarter-finals in each of the eight weight classes Wednesday night. The semifinals and finals will be held in the Stadium on March 6.

Boxers tonight will be in the four lighter divisions, 112, 118, 126 and 135 pounds. Tuesday night's program will feature the bigger boys—147, 160, 175 and heavyweight. All bouts are scheduled for three rounds of two minutes each.

Teams from 31 cities in 20 states are entered in the tournament, which is sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Three defending champions are included among the boxers entered. They are bantamweight Jim Moon of Cleveland; welterweight Rory O'Shea of Chicago, and middleweight Gary Brown of Denver. Roy McMillan of Cleveland, the 1961 welterweight champion, is entered in the middle-weight division.

Gilbert Yanez, 24, of Toledo, Ohio, who won the flyweight title in 1958 and 1959, will be making a bid for the featherweight crown.

Tiger-Fullmer Draw in Title Fight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P) — Gene Fullmer remains unfinished business for middleweight champion Dick Tiger today — but settlement is expected in a big-money match in June.

Figures in the $100,000 bracket are flying as fast as the punches thrown Saturday night in Convention Center where Tiger retained his crown on a draw decision after 15 rounds of battling.

Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, who lost his title to Tiger in San Francisco last Oct. 23, declared, "I'm ready for the rematch. I thought I beat him Saturday night and there's no reason I can't do it again."

Tiger thought he had won. He said he was shocked at Referee Vern Bybee, who scored it a 69-69 draw while judge John Romero scored for Fullmer, 80-68. Judge Pat Diskin ruled for Tiger, 71-67. The Associated Press had it even at 70-70 under the Nevada scoring system of five points to the winner of a round and four or less to the loser.

At a news conference Tiger criticized the man who fought him to a standstill.

"He shouldn't use tricks," Tiger said of Fullmer's strategy of jabbing and dancing away. "I am the champion. I'll never use tricks."

In the San Francisco fight, Fullmer employed his usual style. He bullied his way in and took a licking. So he switched styles for this one. The draw was the third for Fullmer in championship fights. While he held the crown, he fought even matches against Joey Giardello and Sugar Ray Robinson.

Tiger was unhappy about several things. Pointing to a bandage on a cut above his eye, he declared, "It was his head that did that."

Fullmer replied, "It was no butt. I hit him with a right hand."

At one point Tiger tossed Fullmer bodily from the ring. The champ charged, "He was using elbows and butts so I threw him out."

"He just got a little flustered," Fullmer said.

East Moline Is Tabbed Top Quad-Cities Team

By PAUL CARLSON
Sports Editor,
Moline Daily Dispatch

MOLINE, Ill. (P)—Last November, when the present season got under way in this basketball hotbed, veteran observers forecast one of the toughest Quad-Cities neighborhood struggles in the area's prep history.

And they tabbed East Moline the least likely to succeed.

Today, East Moline (18-2) holds the No. 5 spot in the Associated Press statewide poll, based on last week's voting.

Coach Ernie Kivisto's Panthers, downgraded because of a 7-15 record last year, have proved these experts false prophets.

East Moline breezed through its first 10 games, clobbering arch-rivals Moline and Rock Island by 18 and 24 points, respectively, and has established itself as the team to beat in Northwest Illinois in the forthcoming tournament series.

East Moline, hidden in the shadows of its bigger neighbors, Moline and Rock Island, has never made it to the State Finals, and sometimes has to shrug off the slur of being called "Moline East" rather than its city name, East Moline.

Kivisto's team is not particularly big, with 6-foot-3½ senior center Mike Ligno the tallest man on the squad. But it boasts dazzling speed and good unity, a combination which results in numerous fast breaks and a tough, full-court press defense.

Improvement of Ligno, who is quick around the pivot, is one of the factors responsible for East Moline's comeback from last year's poor season. He started most of last year's games, and so did the other starters on this year's team.

Right now, Kivisto rates his 5-foot-10 guard, Ron Owens, as the best guard in this area. Owens, a 3-year veteran, has always been a quick and aggressive defensive player, but this year he's sharpened his eye and has developed into a consistent scorer, averaging more than 14 points since the holidays.

Allen Knott, a rugged 6-foot-3 junior who broke in as a varsity starter as a sophomore late last year, is the team's leading scorer, averaging better than 15 points, and he's also the top rebounder at his forward post. Either Bob VanQuathem, 6-foot-1 senior who is a good rebounder, or 5-foot-9 speedster Dennis Rusk, another senior, start at the other forward.

Only man who didn't play last year is 5-foot-10 guard Russ Hopkins, who was ineligible a year ago. He has developed as a play-maker and, like the others, is quick on defense. Available for help now is Bob Taylor, 6-foot-2 veteran forward, who was ineligible first semester.

Rock Island was pegged as the top team in this area in preseason ratings, because Coach Bob Riley has two regulars back from the 1962 team which reached the State Tournament quarterfinals.

The two are Lou Kaiser, 6-foot-3 senior who plays either center or forward, and 6-foot-4 senior Ken Cowan, an excellent rebounder. Kaiser has improved his average over the 16-point mark, and if guards Jeff Woods, 6-foot-1, and Dan Teague, 5-foot-10, steady down to consistent performances, the Rocks will again be a strong tournament threat. The regional for this area will be played at Rock Island.

Rock Island Alleman has been a spotty team, reaching a peak in the Pontiac Holiday Tournament. Alleman boasts the biggest and perhaps the most talented individual in this area in 6-foot-8 center Tim Powers, who is averaging more than 20 points a game. But Coach Don Morris is still seeking an efficient lineup with which to surround Powers.

Moline has not yet jelled into a solid team but still is regarded as a tournament contender with a pair of 6-foot-6 seniors, Jerry Moore and Dave Keller, and a potentially good supporting cast.

CAST YOUR VOTE FOR HAROLD BAY

FOR CITY COMMISSIONER - TUES., FEB. 26th

TO THE VOTERS OF DIXON:

Four years ago, I told the people of Dixon that if elected, I would run my department like a business.

In the last four years the employees of the street department have had their salaries increased to meet the rising cost of living, which has amounted to approximately eight thousand dollars per year.

The insurance program that we have for the employees costs the street department over one thousand dollars per year. We are spending between eleven and twelve thousand dollars per year for the removal of dead elm trees. The equipment of the street department is second to none because of our maintenance program. We now have many more miles of streets and sewers to maintain as a result of the annexations to the city during the past four years.

With all of the added expenses the street department is operating on less money than when I took office four years ago.

If I am re-elected I will continue to do the job to the best of my ability.
Your vote will be appreciated.

Kerner Pushes Two Goals in Legislature

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Gov. Otto Kerner's forces begin a drive in the Illinois General Assembly this week behind two of his legislative goals—to set up a new department on child welfare services and try to check school drop-outs.

Also up for attention of the lawmakers, who delay their return until Wednesday because of Tuesday's Chicago city election, are bills dealing with judicial revision, public aid, city fire departments, and daylight savings time.

The Senate Education Committee will hold a hearing Thursday on a bill by Sen. Gordon Kerr, R-Brookport, to raise the compulsory school attendance age as a means of easing the dropout problem.

Kerr's Bill

Kerr's bill now calls for making the age 18 instead of 16, but under an agreement with administration leaders, it is to be changed to 17.

The Senate Public Welfare Committee will consider Thursday another of Kerner's recommendations to divorce child welfare services from the Mental Health Department and put them in a department of their own.

The services include schools for deaf, blind, physically handicapped, dependent children, plus residential and rehabilitative services for adults. Sen. Robert Canfield, R-Rockford, a critic of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, is pushing for committee approval Thursday of two bills he introduced with the aim of reducing aid rolls.

One measure would increase from one to two years the residence period required to qualify for public aid. The other would allow IPAC employees to submit any information concerning crimes directly to law enforcement officials.

Daylight savings time, a perennial subject in the legislature, comes up Wednesday at a hearing by the Senate License and Miscellaneous Committee. A bill by Sen. Kerr, who represents a rural area, seeks to cut one month from the six-month daylight time period by lopping off October.

Judicial Article

The Senate Judicial Revision Committee will take up bills Wednesday to implement the new judicial article by setting up an elective system for appellate court judges and fixing their salaries.

Officials of the Policemen's Benevolent and Protective Association are expected to appear Thursday in support of a bill by Rep. Allen Lucas, D-Springfield, to prevent merging of police and fire departments in downstate cities.

The bill, to be considered by the House Municipalities Committee, provides that cities with fulltime fire departments cannot require a policeman to perform fire-fighting duties.

Champaign Policeman Wipes Out Treasury

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (P)—A modestly living city policeman has been accused of wiping out the treasury of the local Policemen's Benevolent and Protective Association by dipping into it for nearly 10 years.

He is Patrolman William J. Flynn, secretary-treasurer of the Champaign branch of the association.

Flynn was bound over to the Champaign County Grand Jury Saturday on a charge of stealing $21,000 of the association's supposed balance of $21,600. He was released Sunday under $3,000 bond.

The policeman said he used the money only to pay bills that accumulated while he supported his family of a wife and three children on a salary of $454 a month, his superiors said.

Chief Harvey Shirley said Flynn doesn't own a home and has not completed payments on his automobile.

The chief said Flynn was not bonded and the association never had audits because, "We had a trusted member of the department in charge of the funds."

Flynn, 49, was known in Springfield as a man who lobbied for legislation that would improve the lot of his fellow policemen.

The patrolman, a member of the force for 16 years, had served as vice president of the statewide association. He lost a bid for the presidency of the state organization two years ago.

Sgt. Dean Dawkins, newly-elected president of the local unit, discovered the shortage Thursday. He went to the bank to sign a signature authorization and decided to check the bank balance. It showed $600, not the $21,600 reported by Flynn.

The Champaign unit used its funds to maintain a wooded recreation area for its members and to supplement policemen's pensions.
